GALVESTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

To Promote and Advocate for Business

Engaging professionals under forty years of age

How it began...

The Galveston Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors recognized an important fact: our organization is not represented by our younger generations. This sparked the idea of Fred Raschke, 2010 Chair of our Board of Directors, and President Gina Spagnola to create a committee dedicated to gathering fresh ideas about how we can engage our young professionals. Thus, the Out-of-the-Box Committee was born. Their purpose simply stated: To educate, develop and harness the energy of our next generation business leaders and to identify current and future issues to be addressed by the Chamber.

What it is...

The C-Crewe, short for Chamber Crewe, developed after only a few short meetings of the Out-of-the-Box Committee. The C-Crewe's objective became to engage professionals under forty in the Galveston business community as well as the Chamber of Commerce. By providing events tailored for their needs and interests, this new age group will see first hand the function and importance of membership with the Galveston Chamber of Commerce. Additionally, as the group grows in size, so will their attendance and participation in Chamber functions.

How to get involved...

- You must represent a business that is a member of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce. (Individual memberships available)
- Fill out the C-Crewe application provided on the back of this brochure.
- Submit payment for $50. (This is an annual dues payment and is strictly used for C-Crewe operating expenses.)
- Please respect the goal of targeting individuals under forty.
- Show up for events! Making connections is what it's all about. Make the most out of your C-Crewe membership simply by attending the functions.
